St. Joseph's College Calumet Center, the first four year, fully accredited college in the Lake County region, officially opened the year with a high mass offered by Fr. Raphael H. Gross, C.P.P.S., the college president, on Aug. 29.

The new Center (no longer merely an "extension") is empowered by the parent institution in Rensselaer to grant the A.B. and B.S. degrees in accounting, economics, English, English-journalism, history, philosophy, political science and sociology.

Located at 4721 Indianapolis Blvd. in East Chicago, Ind., the new Center building is fully air conditioned. It houses the general offices of the college including administrative and business offices, library and reading room, bookstore, student lounge, faculty offices, art studio, and 11 class rooms.

Some preliminary statistics indicate that there are over 500 students enrolled at the Center. This is an increase of about 30 percent over last year. Class registrations are up 54 percent over last fall.

Fr. Henry J. Martin, C.P.P.S., the Dean and Director of the new Center, announced the calendar under which the Center would operate for the 1960-61 school year. The fall semester started on Aug. 29 and will finish Dec. 17. The second semester will begin on Jan. 12 and run through Apr. 29. The Center will offer two short 6 weeks sessions after the regular school terms. The spring Semester will be in session from May 8 through June 17. Summer school is scheduled between June 19 and July 29.

Dr. Morell has book published

Dr. R. W. Morell, chairman of the department of Business Administration at St. Joseph's College has written a book on the subject of decision-making.

Called Managerial Decision Making, it sums up the chief principles executives should use in solving the complex problems that arise in modern commerce and presents actual case histories in decision making. It shows how logic can and should be used by executives, managers, supervisors and individuals, who must make decisions in business.

Intended primarily for college courses in business administration and business policy, the book will serve equally well in adult education programs or in management development programs conducted by larger firms.

An expert in business administration, Dr. Morell has been a consultant in the business management field since 1957 and is a frequent contributor to professional magazines. He received his Master's degree in Business Administration from the University of Chicago and a Doctorate from St. Louis University.

Before accepting chairmanship of the Business Administration department at St. Joseph's College he was an assistant professor of management at the University of Detroit.

Mass officially opens school year at St. Joe

SJ campus has active summer

More than 2,600 persons participated in twenty-three events which comprised the campus program of summer activities. "From June 6 to Sept. 11 something was going on every day" said Fr. Richard P. Baird, C.P.P.S., Director of Summer Events.

The summer program was highlighted during the Young Christian Workers convention (Aug. 6-12) when His Eminence Albert Cardinal Meyer voiced his praise to 350 delegates and chaplains of the convention, congratulating the YCW for the action it has taken toward the formation of the Lay Apostolate.

During the first week of August 400 priests, brothers sisters, seminarians and laymen attended a Study Week to promote research and popularization of the devotion of the Most Precious Blood of Jesus. Eighty Sister Adorers of the Precious Blood studied Vocational Guidance here this summer, and prior to the 1960 summer school which began June 20, the youngest five classes of C.P.P.S. priests attended lectures in scripture, canon law and theology.

The summer school enrollment of 250 was an all time high for the college, and included 13 communities of sisters and 21 major seminarians from the Precious Blood seminary in Carthage, Ohio.

The Chicago Bears also made an appearance on campus this summer. Returning for the seventeenth consecutive year of training at St. Joe, their stay was highlighted by a rough scrimmage with the College All-Stars which the Bears won. Some of the pros also appeared on an hour TV show which portrayed the training life of a football player.

Phase out in October

The 1959-60 edition of PHASE, the St. Joe yearbook, should be available for distribution during the first week in October.

At that time, Mr. James A. O'Brien, the faculty advisor for the yearbook, will organize a staff for this year's book.

Mixer Schedule

Saturday, Sept. 24, marks the date of SJ's first mixer. The mixer, which will be attended by girls from Rosary, Mundelein, St. Joseph's Calumet Center, and Nazareth Academy, will run from 8:00 until 11:00 p.m. Music will be provided by recording, and a suit or sport ensemble is required.

Dave Hoover, social chairman, has also scheduled the semester's second mixer for Oct. 15 following the Indiana State game. All other future dates are tentative, he said.

56 named to Dean's List for the Spring term

Fifty-six students were placed on the Dean's List for the second semester of the 1959-60 school year. An index of at least 3.50 is required to make the List.

Senior Raymond Krizmanic, junior Thomas Schoenbaum, and freshmen John Babione, Thomas Fletchall, William Gruszewski, Ronald Hemmelgarn, and Charles Schuttrow earned perfect 4.00 indexes (all A's).

Collegeville's face is lifted

By GLENN CLAUSEN

There have been improvements in Pumaville! If your vision wasn't too blurred with memories of beach parties, beer parties, and other forms of summer hell raising, you probably noticed the new brick entrance monument on the west side of route 53. It's just a mite classier (flowers and all) than the old green signboard.

After the rigors of registration, you surely must have noticed the disappearance of the rickety wooden steps in the back of the Ad building and the arduous effort to replace them with a more solid foundation—concrete.

If you wandered above the bookstore in Gaspar hall you missed the green wallpaper, leaky plumbing, falling plaster, and blinking lights. The much needed repairs on the 63 year old building included replacement of the front stairway and partial refurnishing of individual rooms.

While you were searching desperately for a summer job, St. Joe employed some of your fellow students to help in the rejuvenation program. Work was done on Xavier, Drexel, and Aquinas halls, hiking the construction and rehabilitation costs to $65,000. Maintenance and construction is largely under the direction of Fr. Paul Wellman, business manager of the college.

Projected plans for next year include a complete remodeling of Washburn hall, establishment of a visitor's dining room—it is getting rather crowded in the present one, and the construction of apartments in Aquinas hall for the use of visiting dignitaries.

Treasurer appointed

Fr. William Eilerman succeeded Fr. John Lefko as Treasurer of Saint Joseph's College in an administrative shift announced by Very Rev. Raphael H. Gross, president of Saint Joseph's.

At the same time Father Gross announced that Fr. Paul Wellman would succeed Fr. Eilerman as Business Manager and would continue as Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds. Fr. Lefko continues in his position as Director of Saint Joseph's Foundation.

Installation set for new Frosh honor society

A freshman honor society has been organized at St. Joseph's college. Phi Eta Sigma, a national organization which aims at encouraging and rewarding exceptional scholarship among freshmen, will begin functioning officially on Sept. 26. At that time James E. Foy, grand secretary of the society, will be at St. Joseph's to install local officers.

To be eligible for membership in Phi Eta Sigma, a student must maintain an index of 3.50 or above for his freshman year. The first members of the St. Joseph's chapter will be upperclassmen who were eligible as freshmen. Eligible for membership are John Babione, Ronald Bonato, Dennis Brestensky, Bernard Casey, John Conlon, Harold Creager, Francis Creel, James Crook, David Etzwiler, Joseph Fitzgerald, Thomas Fletchall, and Donald Gimbel.

Also eligible are William Graszewski, William Kennedy, Philip Kummerer, James McCauley, Edward McGee, David Markey, Joseph Murray, Elmer Paris, Thomas Schoenbaum, Charles Schuttrow, Albert Stec, Dean Van Liersburg, Kenneth Wysoglad and Daniel Zawila.

Freshmen who meet the entrance requirements will be asked to join the society after the first grading period.

Phi Eta Sigma was founded at the University of Illinois in 1923. St. Joseph's requested membership early this year and received notification of acceptance on June 20. St. Joseph's is already a member of Delta Epsilon Sigma, the national honor society for seniors of Catholic colleges.

Deadline set for Fulbright prizes

Only two months remain to apply for some 800 Fulbright scholarships for graduate study or research in 30 countries. Applications are being accepted until Nov. 1.

Inter-American Cultural Convention awards for study in 17 Latin American countries have the same filing deadline.

Recipients of Fulbright awards for study in Europe, Latin America, and the Asia-Pacific area will receive tuition, maintenance and round-trip travel. IACC scholarships cover transportation, tuition, and partial maintenance costs.

General eligibility requirements for both categories of awards are: 1) U. S. citizenship at time of application; 2) a bachelor's degree or its equivalent by 1961; 3) knowledge of the language of the host country; and 4) good health. A demonstrated capacity for independent study and a good academic record are also expected. Preference is given to applicants under 35 years of age who have not previously lived or studied abroad.

Applicants will be required to submit a plan of proposed study that can be carried out profitably within the year abroad. Successful candidates are required to be affiliated with approved institutions of higher learning abroad.

Enrolled students at a college or university should consult the campus Fulbright advisor for information.

Stuff to appear weekly as St. Joseph's expands

As an educational institution, St. Joseph's has been expanding steadily. In 1951, the college announced a record enrollment of 527 students. This September, that figure was more than doubled when some 1,100 men were welcomed to the campus.

As the number of students increased, the physical plant of the college also grew to meet the needs of a larger student body. Five new residence halls appeared. Bennett, Noll, Halas, and Gallagher are brand new buildings. Aquinas was converted from a convent for the Precious Blood nuns to a residence hall for students in order to provide additional room.

The Rec Hall, the field house, and the Post Office were remodeled and enlarged.

With this issue, STUFF joins the college's plan of expansion by becoming a weekly. It will appear every Thursday night from now on.

Instead of 14 or 15 issues a year as in the past, STUFF will now appear 26 times each school year.

The very frequency of publication will obviously enable a more up to date coverage of campus events. Saturday's football game can now be written up for the following Thursday rather than for two or three, and in some cases four weeks from now when the sports' page would be flooded with accounts of perhaps the past three games.

The review of a concert or a speech may now appear within a few days of the actual event instead of two weeks later.

However, the increased frequency of publication is not all that is new in STUFF. Typographically, it is now one of the most modern college newspapers anywhere.

Column rules have been abandoned. A brand new headline type, called Lydian, will be used consistently throughout the paper. Even the STUFF nameplate is new; it has been redrawn in order to tighten it up. Capitalization will now be abandoned in headlines except where you would ordinarily expect to find it.

To cut the budget, STUFF will now be printed on newsprint rather than the glossy type paper used in previous years.

These first few issues of STUFF will be largely experimental. The staff is working on a new schedule with a new printer. We are bound to make a few mistakes in the beginning but we sincerely hope to provide the campus with the best newspaper it has ever had.

Limited by the printers to four pages each week, we will sometimes have difficulty in fitting everything that should go into STUFF into it. Sometimes we may not have enough to fill four pages. This problem will vary from week to week, but we hope no one will feel slighted if we find it impossible to print everything we receive every week.

Off the Cuff

Well, we did it again! We all vowed we wouldn't be back this year, but here we are. For the freshmen this is a new and exciting experience, but for the upper-classmen there won't be much excitement until the first 5 and 25 is given out. I wonder who it will be this year? You might look for those fines to go up this year, by the way. Fr. Schaefer has switched to cigars.

The first week back on campus has been spiced with stories about the summer as usual. Everyone seems to have something to tell. Larry Kelly has announced that he is no longer running for a Student Council office at St.-Mary-of-the-Woods. In fact he is even afraid to show his face down there. But the big news in the senior class is that one of the famous "untouchables" had five dates this summer. Could it be H. C. H.?

Kanne's opened with a bang this year. I know everyone was releasing their pent up emotions, John, but isn't 21 Seven-Sevens a little ostentations.

The Freshmen look like they may fit in around here in a few weeks but they still have a lot to learn. Two of them were overheard talking in the Bookstore last Monday, the day after they arrived. One asked if the other thought he should buy his books right away. The other said, "Sure, you can read them over a couple times before classes start." Give them time.

There were a couple of used car dealers in the Rec Hall the other day looking for Fr. Ranly. But as it turned out they were only junk dealers. I wonder what Father might possibly have that they would want? Speaking of junk, if anyone has been wondering what that green thing is that sometimes is parked in front of the Rec Hall, well nobody knows. But it belongs to Jerry Ruzicka.

Has anyone noticed how sick everyone store? Prices went up again, unless of course you want to sell a book back to them. We now have the only Bookstore in the country with a cover charge and a minimum.

looks when they come out of the Book- The new Bobsy twins, Tim Conner and Jim Sullivan, prefects in Drexal Hall, have been having trouble being distinguished from Freshmen. But everything should be alright when initiation is over.

There are a lot of new and old sights on campus this year. Among the old ones, Bill Zleit's blue sweatshirt, Fr. Shea's white elephant, and Miss Skinner's sour looks. Some of the new ones include beds in the lounges, Bill Cormack's recently acquired thirty five pounds, and the other Freehill twin. And those orange beanies—Paul Andorfer must have a twisted mind.

There is also a Freshman in Merlini named Zofkie. If he is anything like his brother Jim, together they could set a new record for hours in the sack.

It will take a while, but eventually everyone will get to know where everyone else is living this year. The big mystery is where Al Hanley was during the football game last Saturday. By the way, which members of the Student Council were really taken in by a couple of would-be-co-eds? I'll never tell.

But in spite of everything it looks like it ought to be a good year. Brother Gerard seems to be unusually pleasant even though he did poison the coffee. Most of the seniors are legal, and the "Black Maria" is getting slower.

There doesn't seem to be any more dirt, we've only been back a week, so I'll close with a note to the Freshmen. There used to be an old saying on campus, "I'd rather be dead than have orange on the head."

Sign Your Letters

All letters to the Editor should be addressed to Bill Malley, Box 312.

All letters must be signed or they will not be printed in the paper.

All letters written to the editor of STUFF will be welcomed and will be published at the discretion of the staff.

Students are encouraged to use this opportunity to express their opinions in printed form.

SC calls for hurried action on IM sports

Dear Editor—

It has been brought to the attention of the Student Council that the resignation of Mr. Robert Shemky as Director of Intramural Sports has left a vacancy that has not yet been filled for the 1960-1961 school year. Mr. Shemky, with the assistance of such student directors as Bob Decker, has done an admirable job in coordinating the intramural program in the past few years. Intramural sports at St. Joseph's have always been a main pillar of student activities, but now with the absence of men of the caliber of the aforementioned, we of the Student Council feel that the program will be lacking in capable supervision.

The intramural program has always run very smoothly under the Intramural Department, a department separate from the Athletic Department. The Student Council feels that any shifts in this set-up would be a threat to the facile coordination of intramurals. To be more exact, we feel that the Athletic Director could never run the intramural program as well, and with as much devotion, as would an Intramural Director.

With the intramural football season approaching, the Student Council feels that the intramurals situation requires immediate attention. We wish to express our willingness to cooperate with the Athletic Committee in arriving at any solutions that will be acceptable to all. The student body is anxious to participate in a well-run intramural program; and it must be taken into account that without intramurals, or the equivalent in physical exercises required by Indiana state law mandatory gym classes will be imposed upon us.

— THE STUDENT COUNCIL

Fall semester finds eight new profs on staff

Eight new instructors, including two former St. Joseph's lay graduates and a past president of the college, have been added to the St. Joseph's faculty for the 1960-61 fall semester.

The new professors are: Rev. Ralph C. Bushell, C.P.P.S., who received his B.S. in education at Marian College in 1954. Father Bushell will be director of guidance and an instructor in education.

Mr. John A. Delehanty, M.A., will teach economics. Mr. Delehanty received his M.A. at the University of Miami in 1956 and is currently a Ph.D. candidate at Indiana University.

Rev. Aloys H. Dirksen, C.P.P.S., S.T.D., president of St. Joseph's in 1938-44, returns to teach religion. Father Dirksen has written various articles and has had a number of books published. One of his books was on the life of Christ, while another dealt with patrology.

Also returning is Father Dirksen's brother, Rev. Cletus F. Dirksen, C.P.P.S., Ph.D. Father Dirksen is an associate professor of political science. He received his M.A. at the Catholic University of America in 1941 and later obtained his

Council Critique

By MARTY WATERS

As the school year opens, I cannot help but wonder if this year's Student Council will be able to match the outstanding performance of last year's The Council of 1959-60 was a close knit, hard working unit which took full advantage of the greater funds available to it, and proceeded to have a very fine year. The mixers were never better. All of the date dances were quite successful. The concert series provided some excellent entertainment. And more students than ever before participated in the intramural program.

The above were some of the more obvious improvements in life in general on the campus. Last year's Council did not accomplish these things without difficulty. There were arguments and differences of opinion, as there must always be in a group of this sort. However, these were overcome, and while the result perhaps pained a few, a far greater number of the student body was generally satisfied.

During this year also, there will be differences of opinion. The way things stand now, this year's arguments will be fiercer than last year's, and the success or failure of this Council will depend upon how successfully its members are in ironing out their differences and in choosing the path of action which is most beneficial to the student body as a whole.

The members of this Council are a talented group, and a willing group. It would be a shame if such talent were wasted due to personal differences. However, this is not an insurmountable obstacle and I feel every Council member realizes that the Council and its purpose is bigger than any of them as individuals.

With this assurance, I wish the Council the very best of luck, and predict that the year 1960-61 will be a truly outstanding one.

Intramural Scoreboard

By BILL FORTIN

It shouldn't be very long now before the intramural ball starts to roll again and about a dozen upper class football squads will be taking their positions raring for another crack at the title, won last year by the now graduated and otherwise disbanded Washburn Optilets. The usual crop of talent in the Freshman League will arise and develop during the regular season in their own circuit, then will prepare for the mixed-league tournament at the season's close.

With the resignation last spring of Intramural Director Mr. Robert Shemky, a period of several years of fine intramural sports administration came to a close. Mr. Shemky, who resigned to devote more time to academics, saw to it that the six hundred or more intramural participants had all the football, basketball, bowling, tennis, ping pong, horseshoes, softball, and special events they wanted. It is no surprise that the students wish equal success to the new Intramural Director, whose appointment has not yet been officially disclosed, and assure him full cooperation and assistance in upholding one of our most important and popular programs—that of intramural sports.

This year, as always, competition for the All-Sports Trophy should be stiff. The All-Sports Trophy, for the benefit of the new students, is a large trophy awarded to one of the residence halls at the end of the school year. The decision is based on (1) the highest percentage of intramural sports participants per total hall membership, and (2) the success, in terms of victory, of the teams from those halls. The All-Sports Trophy has been won by Noll Hall for the last two years.

Lack of depth could haunt Puma gridders

By JOHN BABIONE

Lack of depth, which plagued last year's Puma football team, seems certain to haunt coaches Iofredo, Dwyer and Holstein again in 1960. As a result, prospects for the basically sound Puma squad are not bright. This problem was dramatically demonstrated in the season opener: while the N. E. Missouri coach substituted freely, Coach Iofredo was forced to rely on a small core of regulars.

While the depth problem this year is not as acute as last year—35 men reported to practice this year as opposed to 28 last year—a few key injuries could still ruin the team's chances for success.

Coach Iofredo, in his second year as head coach, is trying to better his record of 4-4 overall and 3-3 in the conference which he compiled last year when he took over an undermanned and inexperienced squad from former coach Bob Jauron. His small team including twenty-one lettermen has the potential to win if they play their best and avoid injury.

Six lettermen comprise the bulk of the starting line. They are ends Jim Madden and Dave Beran, tackles Vic (Tiny) Roos and Dennis Mudd, and guards Jim Dempsey and Vince Goeddeke. Jim Biernat, a sophomore, is the starting center.

Big Red drop opener

It was a sad day at Pumaville last Saturday as N. E. Missouri, led by spectacular Dale Mills, took a 20-0 victory over St. Joe. Mills himself put the Pumas through the mill as he gained a total of 159 yards. The punchless Pumas were deep in Missouri territory several times but failed to take advantage of the opportunity.

Northeast Missouri opened the scoring in the second quarter as fullback Minton plunged over from the one yard line. Dale Mills had spearheaded the drive by his hard rushing on the T. D. march. Miller kicked the extra point. Late in the second quarter Puma guard Jim Dempsey recovered a fumble by Missouri's Mills deep in Missouri territory but the Pumas were unable to cross the Bulldog goal line. The recovered fumble, no doubt, was the Pumas' biggest break of the first half.

Midway through the fourth quarter Mills skirted around end for 5 yards and the touchdown. Miller again booted the extra point. Minutes before the game ended the Pumas seemingly had Missouri quarterback Jack Ball trapped deep in his own backfield only to see him weave in and out for 29 yards and another T. D. The try for the conversion was blocked by the rugged Dempsey.

George Connelly led the Puma rushers with 62 yards and an average of 6.2 yards per carry. Total yards for Big Red came to 157, 98 on the ground and 59 through the air-lanes. Beam completed 6 of 17 passes but had 3 intercepted.

Pumas battle DePauw Tigers Saturday; DePauw Coach calls team 100% improved

By JERRY MESERVEY

The St. Joseph's College Pumas under the direction of head coach Joseph Iofredo, will meet the DePauw Tigers from Greencastle, Ind., in the first Indiana Collegiate Conference game of the season on Sept. 24. The Tigers' optimistic head coach, Tom Mont, predicted that "nobody will run over us this year," but the St. Joseph's Pumas are out to duplicate last year's victory.

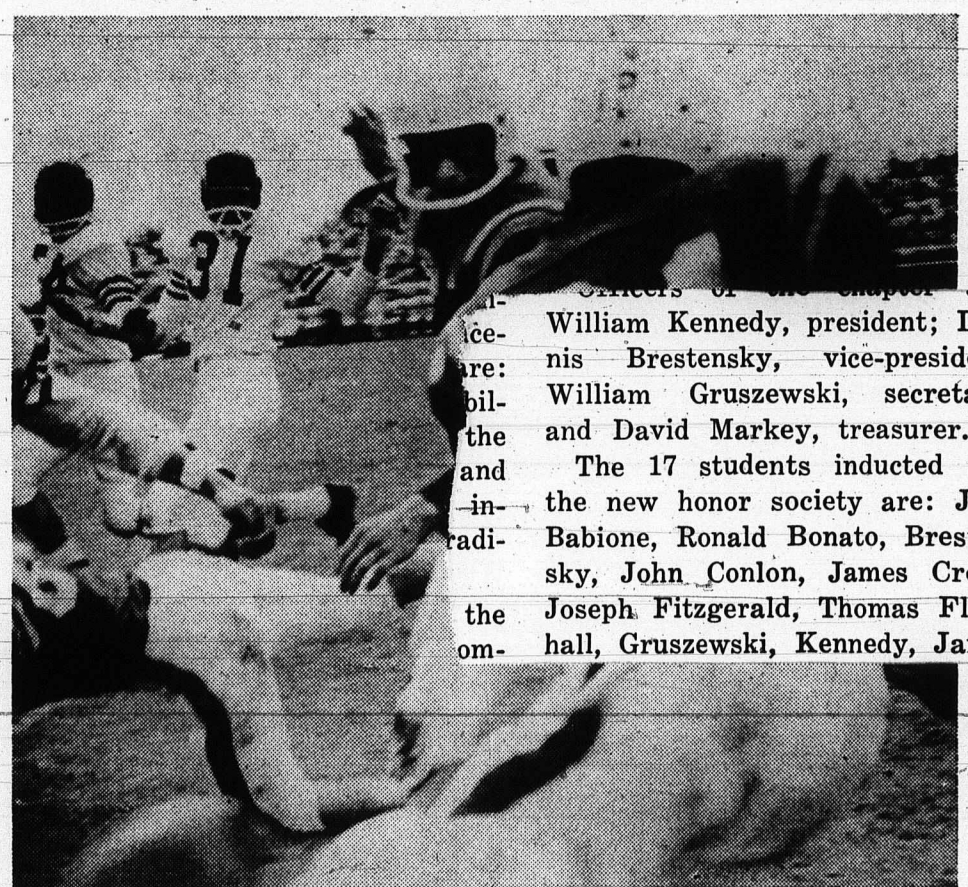

The Pumas, with twenty-one returning lettermen as opposed to last years figure of eleven, show promise of improving upon their record of 4-4 over the year and 3-3 in conference play last season. The first platoon of the 1960 Pumas appears to be as strong, if not stronger than the 1959 Pumas.

The sophomore-studded DePauw Tigers will enter Pumaville with a team which coach Tom Mont considers 100 percent ahead of last years 1-7-1 crew in fundamentals and techniques.

Possible backfield starters for the Tigers are: sophomores Duff Gula, Jim Menighan, Dan Blunt, Ed Skeeters, Steve Morrison; juniors Al Hart and Ed Meyer; and seniors John Rubush (last year's top passer), Jan Merder and Dave Dunkelberger.

Candidates for starting berths in the DePauw line, which will average around 205 pounds, almost 15 pounds heavier than in '59, are: Jim Downey, 225, Bill Kinkade, 212; Walley Foltz, 215. Jim Gladden, 210; George Mitru.

Missouri's Mills carries around St. Joe end . . . again.

Club News

The Glee Club opens the '60-'61 season with 75 members, the largest enrollment in its history. Fr. Lawrence Heiman, club moderator, announced that the Glee-men will be divided into three interlocking choruses. New members will receive instruction in basic vocal principles and singing. The club anticipates a large number of off-campus concerts and a possible T V appearance in the spring. Concert season officially opens the weekend of Oct. 8, with a performance in Jefferson City, Mo.

The History Club held its first meeting of the 1960-61 school year this evening in Merlini lounge. In an address to the members, club moderator Mr. Richard Kilmer discussed the activities and aims of the History Club and outlined its extensive program for this year. Among the events to be sponsored by the club this year will be a raffle, a club excursion to one of the popular Broadway stage plays now being presented in Chicago, and a trip to at least two spots of historical interest, Gettysburg and Washington, D. C.

Officers of the club this year are Dave Hoover, president; Marty Waters, vice-president; and Bill Fortin, secretary-treasurer.

Two '60 Pumas make ICC team

Two members of the 1960 Pumasville nine, Jim Koehler and Jack Finnegan, were elected to the All Indiana Collegiate Conference Team. For Jim Koehler, it was his second consecutive year on the conference team, and Jack Finnegan had previously received the honor in 1958.

Al Whitlow, the Puma right-fielder, was named to the second team, while shortstop Jim Crowley and third baseman Bob Decker both received honorable mention.

Catcher Tom Orton of Valparaiso was named the league's most outstanding player, besides being selected to the All Conference team for the third consecutive year.

Ray Louthern of Ball State, who coached his team into third place with a 7-5 record, was chosen Coach-of-the-Year.

year, by the way. Fr. Schaefer has signed to cigars.

The first week back on campus has spiced with stories about the summer usual. Everyone seems to have something to tell. Larry Kelly has announced he is no longer running for a Student Council office at St. Mary-of-the-Wood. In fact he is even afraid to show his face down there. But the big news in the season
